General Comment

Individuals in a 401k plan already have incredible limitations placed on them. An IRA account enables a person the freedom to make their own decisions about their retirement future.

I would urge to reject this proposed rule. Every person preparing for retirement should have all leverage available to them to build wealth in preparation for retirement. Including options trading.

We're all big boys and girls able to make our own investment decisions. There are already measures in place to prevent the average investor from placing calls or puts.

I do not support this measure.
